The Origin of Walsun CSR

Walsun Chemical has been engaged in chemical trade for as long as 16 years. Based on the concept of honesty, transparency and responsible cooperation, we provide good chemical raw materials produced in China to customers all over the world. Among our suppliers, there are many excellent enterprises in China's chemical industry with outstanding performance in corporate social responsibility. We serve clients all over the world, including top multinational chemical distribution groups such as Brenntag and Univar. Over the past 16 years, Walsun has been committed to responsible and sustainable procurement and transparent operations, which have benefited customers, suppliers and companies.

Walsun is still a small company. Although we had the concept and operation behavior of sustainable development and benefiting the society in our previous operations, Walsun has not formed a systematic green sustainable development system and Walsun CSR system. In January 2020, the company formally established the Green Sustainable Development Committee (GSDC), which formally incorporated Green Sustainable Development and corporate social responsibility into the company's strategic management. In particular, it will promote the social responsibility work from the aspects of green ecological product selection, responsible sustainable procurement, transparent operation, etc., and promote the comprehensive and coordinated green and sustainable development of the company.

Walsun CSR Commitment

Walsun understands and supports the requirements of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and participated in the Ecovadis Assessment of the Together for Sustainability Initiative (TfS) in 2018. We fully support their principles of ethics, labor rights, health and safety, environmental and related management systems. We understand the chemical industry is closely related to the ecological environment, occupational safety and health, etc. We are deeply concerned not only in the process and people involved in manufacturing chemical products, but also the planet on which everyone depends. Therefore, we have set relevant standards for ourselves and our suppliers from 2020 to ensure that we pay common attention to issues such as the integrity and transparency of the operating environment, the ecological environment, labor rights, and occupational safety and health. It is the duty of all enterprises to promote social sustainable development no matter what their sizes are. We are willing to work with all partners to do our best to promote the green and sustainable development of the chemical industry.

Walsun's social responsibility work must be closely integrated with the company's main business and better respond to the expectations of stakeholders in terms of economic performance, social harmony, and environmental friendliness.

Walsun Chemical provides our customers with comprehensive and trusted services, by integrating purchasing, selling, and delivering orders under the guidance of responsible procurement principles. Through understanding and learning the product and its raw materials, the production processing technologies, the level of its environmental friendliness, the in-depth understanding and communication of suppliers, along with Walsun's supplier audit system, Walsun Chemical is confident to manage the complexities of procurement in the international trade and the risks inherent in all transactions. In addition to business considerations, the company's product procurement strategy also incorporates the company's social responsibility standards. We concentrate on product quality, safety, operational transparency and sustainability, to enhance our customers' comprehensive competitiveness. Walsun believes that it is necessary to change or influence the perception of clients by advocating the added value of sustainable development. For Walsun Chemical, the responsible sustainable procurement and transparent operations are the core competitiveness and long-lasting strategy, in addition to the basic work of helping customers reduce the procurement costs to maximum level.
